World's Scientists Watch Hawaii

Experiments At Kalihi Expected To Result In Anti-Toxin Discovery

Experiments, the outcome of which will be watched by the whole world, are shortly to be instituted in the laboratory of the Kalihi Receiving Station in an attempt to discover an antitoxin for leprosy, the finding of which will mean a complete cure for those afflicted with the disease and the making of Molokai nothing but a memory.

Moses T. Clegg, the man who succeeded in propagating the bacillus of leprosy in Manila, will arrive in Hawaii on the Korea and will join Dr. Currie at the Kalihi laboratory as assistant director and proceed with the epoch-making work, the first step toward which was taken by himself in Manila.

The success attained by Clegg in growing the bacillus of leprosy, after European scientists have failed for years in their efforts, has unprecedented interest in the scientific world, and the decision of the Federal government to send Clegg to Hawaii to continue his efforts and attempt to secure an absolute cure for the disease by the finding of an antitoxin is considered almost certain to result in success.

The man in charge of the search for the antitoxin will be Dr. Donald Currie, who with Hollman and Brinkerhoff succeeded in following in Clegg's footsteps and growing the bacillus of the disease.

It is stated that in the work of searching for an antitoxin, monkeys will be used in the laboratory and be inoculated with the disease. Upon the arrival of Clegg from Manila he will join the laboratory force at Kalihi as assistant director, and the investigators will have every possible resource at their command in an effort to secure an absolute cure for the disease.

Clegg is given full credit for the pioneer and epoch-making work of growing the bacillus, and his success is considered all the more remarkable because he is not a physician.

DEMOCRATS ARE NOW AFTER A MANAGER

County Central Committee

E. M. WATSON NOW IS BOURBONS' HOPE

Secretary Rivenburgh Refuses to Tackle Job—Committeemen Given Week to Find Someone to Serve.

"Wanted—One campaign manager. Must be warranted able to swallow McCandless' platform with a smile."

The above sign will soon be hung out on the door of the Democratic headquarters in Waverley hall unless some of the untitled succeed in digging up suitably a man to fit the bill. For the Democrats, at the outset of the coming campaign, find themselves without anybody to manage it. They have a platform, a bunch of candidates and a boss, but so far nobody has come forward and offered to be the goat for the fight in Gahuna county.

The lack of manager assumed serious proportions last night when the county central committee held a meeting in Waverley hall. They got as far as a temporary organization, including the selection of a campaign manager, was impossible, and after a long time spent in talking it over, the Democrats adjourned to meet next Monday night.

In the meantime it is up to somebody to find a reputable citizen who is willing to lead the battle. Secretary Rivenburgh had been looked upon as a likely candidate for the job, but Rivenburgh refuses to take it. He says his duties as secretary to the mayor, plus his duties on the Territorial committee, forbid any active participation in the county fight. As a matter of fact, he feels that the McCandless

FILIPINOS OFF FOR BIG ISLE

Twenty and More Leave On Mauna Kea This Morning For Hawaii.

The Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea sailed for Maui and Hawaii ports this morning about twenty Filipinos accompanied in some instances by female members of their families appeared on the wharf behind a dray loaded with the usual wooden trunks in use in the Far East, rolls of blankets and other domestic paraphernalia.

The women in some instances were much afraid of the noise and bustle on the wharf and were being led along by the men, jumping every now and then to dodge some moving dray or vehicle.

The Filipinos were those who came in on the Chito Maru direct from Manila several days ago and are the first to leave for plantations on the big island.

Large amounts of cargo arrived at the wharf for shipment on the Mauna Kea during the half hour before sailing time and the stevedores hustled along lively to get the vessel away on time.

Included in the cargo for the big island was a new Cadillac being shipped to the Volcano House by von Hamm-Young Company.

The passenger list of the Mauna Kea was large and included many prominent people. Berzer's band being on hand to give the vessel a lively send-off as usual.

GRISCOM CLAIMS ROOSEVELT MAJORITY

(Associated Press Cable.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Chairman Lloyd Griscom of the Republican State committee stated today that five hundred and seventy of the one thousand and fifteen delegates to the State convention will vote for Colonel Roosevelt as temporary chairman.

Griscom's claim, however, does not pass undisputed. The regulars declare that they have five hundred and sixty of the delegates. Five hundred and eight are necessary to elect.

DEMOCRATS LEAVING FOR OTHER ISLANDS

Link McCandless left this morning on the island steamer Mauna Kea for his Hawaiian tour. Link's departure was followed by an exodus from the Democratic headquarters in Waverley hall. A number of the delegates to the recent Democratic convention had been in Honolulu until today, but now all are leaving. The bunch from Kauai is the last to go, getting away this evening.

Thankful for Much.

"I thank God that it was Mr. Henry who captured me and not the other men who were hunting for me," said Anderson Grace to a Bulletin reporter at Oahu Prison this morning. Grace, the convicted murderer, has a way of thanking God for everything; he did not, however, give Watchman Mahu a chance to commune with the Deity before he shot him dead at Watertown.

"Yes," continued Grace, "I heard that the detectives were going to shoot me on sight. What for I don't know; I never made any of the threats that were published in the papers as coming from me. Why, if I wished to, I could have killed McDuffie and all his men any old time. I have been within a few feet of the party, and have listened to their plans. When I ran away from the gang at the quarry I stayed for three days around that place. The detectives were within a short distance of me once, and if I had had a revolver and wished to kill them, I could have done so.

"When I left the place where I hid for three days, after running away, I made my way along the road past where Camp McKinley used to be, and then over the new lots of land that are being sold to the hills, and then I came along Heretapia street and then made up mauka. At

MURDER TRIAL IS SENT OVER

Makaio Kamaka Appears In Police Court and Case Is Postponed.

Makaio Kamaka, who killed his wife and her lover on Sunday morning last at Kalihi, was up before Judge Andrade this morning. He was represented by W. T. Rawlins, who on a former occasion, some years ago, prosecuted him on a charge of manslaughter.

There was no evidence offered in the case this morning as the defense was not ready to go on. The matter was therefore sent over till Monday next for hearing. Kamaka does not seem to worry about his possible fate and he sat in court as if disinterested in the proceedings.

Kamaka has been leading a good life from all accounts, since leaving jail, where he served his time for manslaughter. He has been working at a rice mill for very small wages and was considered to be a good man.

Frear and Kuhio Ask Condemnation

Cable To Washington Advising Quick Action Against Fort Street Property

In a joint cable that was sent to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hilles this morning by Governor Frear and Prince Kuhio, immediate action is asked toward the condemnation of the Fort street business property necessary to provide an entire block for the Federal building.

The cable states emphatically that condemnation proceedings should be instituted without delay, in the opinion of the signers, under the appropriation of $350,000 that was made by the last Congress.

The action of the Governor and Kuhio is expected to hurry the Washington authorities in their action and will probably be accepted as indicating the united sentiment of the community.

"It is like refusing a blessing that has been forced upon us," declared Governor Frear this morning. "In letting the Mahukia site and the Federal building matter drag along without action. The fine Federal building erected on this central site in Honolulu will impress every visitor and add in a great degree to the architectural beauty of the city."

While he stated that he did not consider himself an expert on land values Governor Frear was inclined to think that an increase of 48 per cent upon the assessed valuation of the property affected by condemnation was ample to meet satisfactorily the rights of the property holders.

The Governor declared that the rights of the property holders would undoubtedly receive the most careful consideration by the United States jury before which the case would come and it was to be presumed that all hardship would be avoided.

The joint cable sent to Washington this morning is written in rather emphatic terms, although of no advisory nature, and means that the influence of Kuhio and the Territorial Government is to be directed toward securing action as soon as possible in instituting the condemnation of the Fort street property.

ISLANDS LOSE MUCH REVENUE

Chinese Merchants at Iloilo Made False Declarations of Weights and Values.

Chinese merchants at Iloilo, Philippines, have been regularly cheating the government on false weights and declarations of goods brought through the custom house at that port in a manner something like the big sugar frauds at New York.

According to the stories appearing in Manila dailies of last month frauds by which the government has lost something over $25,000 in custom duties have been practiced during the past few months, the shippers on the China coast being in collusion with the consignees and declaring goods and merchandise at less weights than were really true, the average being ten per cent below the true weight and value.

Upon the big fraud being practiced by one merchant being discovered and a fine imposed on him by the Collector of Iloilo of $10,000, which was reduced by the Insular Collector to $6,000, other Chinese who had been practicing the same frauds owned up to what they had been doing.

Up to the time the story appeared in the daily papers the government had found where more than $25,000 had been lost in customs revenue and a large number of other merchants had their books filed with the customs authorities saying they had practiced the same methods and offering to pay up.

The Insular Collector of Customs don't want to put the merchants out of business by wholesale prosecutions and so if they pay up the amounts they have cheated the government they will not be prosecuted.

There were twelve firms of Chinese who were mixed up in this wholesale cheating of the government and a thorough investigation of the employees of the Iloilo custom house was ordered as it was thought the scheme could not have been carried on successfully without collusion on the part of some government servants.

The conspiracy was used on almost everything, rice, salt and general merchandise all figuring in the false weighing.

REPUBLICANS ORGANIZING

Fourth and Fifth Districts Getting Ready for Hot Campaign.

The fifth district campaign committee finished an executive session last before two o'clock today, the organization planned yesterday being completed, with the exception of an executive secretary. It is stated that the fifth and fourth will unite on an executive secretary, and that John Wise in the fifth and Charley Aehl in the fourth will probably be placed in immediate charge of the county campaign, under the direction of the district chairman, Wise as an inside and Aehl as an outside man. The bulk of the detail work will fall on their shoulders. The plans of the committee are to be laid before Wise and Aehl this afternoon and they will be asked to take the executive positions.

Republican politicians are in session today organizing the county for campaign work. Yesterday afternoon the central committee met and began the preliminary organization by dividing the island into two districts—the Fourth and the Fifth—naming campaign committees for each and lining up good men for the chairmanships.

Charles Hustace Jr. was named chairman of the subcommittee of the Fourth District. Hustace holds the proxy of Colonel C. W. Ziegler, and this morning he announced that he would be unable to serve. The matter has not been entirely straightened out, but it is probable that Colonel Ziegler will now be called upon to fill the position.

The other members of the Fourth's campaign committee are Isaac Harbottle, secretary, and Fred C. Smith, treasurer. C. G. Bartlett and C. von Damm are the other members of the committee.

In the Fifth, High Sheriff William Henry will be in the heat of the fray as chairman. B. P. Zablan is secretary, and Albert Waterhouse is treasurer. Harry von Holt and B. K. Kane are the remaining members.

BOY SCOUTS AND COL. BULLARD

Big Meeting to Be Held To- night—Military Instructor Will Give Assistance.

Tonight there will be a meeting of all those interested in the Boy Scout movement that has been inaugurated in this city, at the K. of P. Hall at half-past seven.

This meeting is principally for the older people who are interested in the move, with a view to picking out scout masters from those who have had some previous experience in that kind of work.

Lieut. Col. Bullard, who is an enthusiast in the matter of a scout brigade for boys, will address the meeting and give all the assistance in his power to start the work.

There will be another meeting held along about the last of the week, at which there will be an enrollment of boys for the Scouts, and as soon after as things can be arranged there will be something doing in the line of hikes by the boys.

Colonel Bullard wishes for a good attendance tonight, so as to give the movement a good send-off. He states that there will be no money asked for. It is purely an organization meeting.

NOTLEY SAYS IT'S A TRICK

Home Rulers Will Not Desert Their Party to Support McCandless or Kuhio.

"There is absolutely no truth in the story, which appeared in the Hawaiian Star yesterday, indicating that the Home Rulers would give their support for Link McCandless as a Delegate to Congress."

Charles K. Notley, President of the Home Rule party, and who is the regular nominee of his party for Delegate to Congress stated most emphatically yesterday that the Home Rulers will not give their support to Link McCandless or Kuhio at the coming campaign. He was indignant at the publication of the story, and claimed that it was a political trick to alienate the Home Rule support.

"The Home Rulers are going to put up the hardest fight that they know how. We intend to beat McCandless and Kuhio, if possible," continued Notley.

"The indications on the island of Hawaii this year are such that there is no doubt but that we will sweep the whole island. I am positive that I can make a successful campaign this year."

Notley left this morning in the Mauna Kea to begin his political campaign on Hawaii. He will return to Honolulu, as soon as he has made the circuit of the island.
